Privacy Policy

Please read the Privacy Policy (“Policy”, or “Privacy”) carefully before using the <http://www.medusys.in> website and RAD mobile application (the “Service”, “APP”) operated by Medusys (“us”, “we”, or “our”).

At Medusys, we take privacy very seriously since it is our responsibility to protect the privacy and security of your personal information.

1. We store member personal information behind two layers of encryption in a secure digital environment that is continuously monitored and routinely tested by leading experts in health information security.
2. We restrict access to this environment using multiple safeguards such as dual factor authentication to ensure that only clinical professionals and administrative personnel can access member personal information and only on an as-needed-basis.
3. Your privacy is protected under strict Company rules that prohibit the use or disclosure of member personal information in an improper manner or without proper authorization. These rules are set forth in our internal and Site privacy policies and actively monitored and enforced by our Chief Security Officer.
4. We do not collect any information that directly identifies the patient. For example, we do not collect date of birth, or address. We do however collect the identifier so that researcher can re-identify the demographics for data quality control.
